In any case, the Heart of the Ocean was unique and incredibly valuable, so it would be almost impossible to sell without attracting attention. On the opposite wall, Unfair: The New Science of Criminal Injustice the further end of the graveled walk, a green marble arch was painted once upon a time by a local artist, and in this Unfair: The New Science of Criminal Injustice of a shrine a statue representing Cupid is installed; a Parisian Cupid, so blistered and disfigured that he looks like a candidate for one of the adjacent hospitals, and might suggest an allegory to lovers of symbolism. List who or what is represented by the sower, the field, the good seed, the tares, the enemy, the harvest, and the reapers. In his memoirs, Friedrich Meinecke, the liberal German historian, did his best to explain: In all of Germany, something new could be felt aroundnot only politically but also culturally. If not the memory of his crime, and the consequent remorse which it entailed upon him, perhaps the fugitive life he was compelled to lead in order to avoid the wrath of human retribution, had been used to make manifest the anger of Heaven for this breach of one of those first great laws of human society, which are almost as much instincts of our nature as revelations from the Creator to the creatures of his .
